

Help us enhance the patient experience

Be part of our Patient and Family Advisory Council

Juravinski Cancer Centre Patient and Family Advisory Council

The Juravinski Cancer Centre Patient and Family Advisory Council is in need of more members. Cancer patients, survivors and their family members who have experienced the cancer journey at the Juravinski Cancer Centre (JCC) are encouraged to consider this volunteer opportunity.

What is the Patient and Family Advisory Council (PFAC)?

The PFAC is an advisory group focused on matters important to patients and their families. The Council's goal is to enhance patient-centered care and improve the overall patient experience at the JCC. PFAC members and staff work together to achieve this goal.

Qualifications:

- Patient/survivor or family member with current/previous experience with the cancer journey at the JCC
- Ability to communicate in English (spoken and written)
- Experience on a committee (through work or volunteering)
- Ability to share your cancer experience within a group
- Ability to see beyond your personal experience and think broadly about cancer care at the JCC
- Regular access to internet and email is preferred

Commitment:

The PFAC meets 5 times per year between the months of September and June. Complementary parking passes are provided for meetings.
